KIDS WITHOUT MOMS OPENS ITS DOORS AND WEBSITE!

Boston, MA, July 6, 2016 – Kids Without Moms is a new national nonprofit headquartered in the Boston area dedicated to supporting the +2.0MM children¹ in the U.S. currently living in a household without a mother present. To that end, the company is now actively inviting all children without a mom in the house (all ages) to sign up for a free KWM Hangouts membership. We also welcome all tax deductible donations through our website so that we may expand the membership base we can service as quickly as possible.

Mark Koob, a retired food industry executive and current CEO and co-founder (along with his ten-year-old son, Tiagan) of Kids Without Moms said, “When we went looking for support for my son who lost his mother at the age of five to cancer, I was surprised to learn that very little was available to help kids cope with the loss of what can only be described as a unique relationship that helps determine who they will become in their adult life. While there were many (but still not enough...) resources to support kids coping with the loss of a dad in their lives, Kids Without Moms seeks to provide support for those kids (and their dads) who are coping with the lifelong issue of grief, while trying to fit in with other kids and families who have both parents.”

KWM offers its services primarily online to optimize availability to anyone interested in what we have to offer. Today, our free services include:

¹ In its report entitled America’s Families and Living Arrangements: 2012, (page 12, table 4), the U.S. Census Department states that there are about 2.0 MM children under 18 living without a mother in the household.

- Kids Without Moms Hangouts where kids can sign up for free online sessions and join other kids of similar circumstance to share experiences, concerns or just talk about anything they want using the Google Hangouts platform. Each group is free and is hosted by a professional KWM Moderator to ensure the group is a safe and fun place to make new friends who are dealing with similar issues.
- KWM Sometimes Moms where families are paired with volunteer women with “excess maternal bandwidth” for an online relationship. Women who love and understand kids and have the time to add maternal nurturing and emotional support to families who appreciate it. The KWM Sometimes Moms program is not unlike Big Brothers/Big Sisters of America®, except that it is exclusively online.
- KWM Studios produces a network of podcasts specifically designed for the enjoyment and education of our members (but, they are available to anyone who is interested through the website or the company’s free mobile app). There are four channels at the moment targeted to single dads, kids and general family life issues. All programs are designed to be light hearted, informative and (hopefully) humorous and entertaining.
- Kids Without Moms Blog is a resource where we post future KWM developments, special events and attempt to catalog useful articles for our members regarding parenting, grief and the different developmental stages of kids (and parents...).

MOMS Matter

Kids Without Moms was founded to help kids and dads deal with the vacuum of life without mom.
